Mature communities have a special place where members gather and enact rituals. These can include play or honoring rituals.

Where do members gather to enact rituals (even play rituals)?

What is the most important place?

How do you make that place special when the community gathers?

SACRED SPACE

What spaces are special other than a main place?

When are these spaces special? (i.e., all the time or once a year or other frequency?)

How do you designate the spaces as special? (Inviting people to the place for a specific time counts.)
